KAREN and THE CAKE

Karen liked to cook. She decided that she would bake a chocolate cake for her big brother's birthday. She took out all the ingredients and placed her equipment on the kitchen bench.

After lots of mixing and pouring, Karen slid the cake into the oven. But there was one problem! The phone rang and Karen answered it. While she was talking, she forgot the cake was still in the oven. In the end, her brother did get a cake for his birthday. It was a cake Karen's mom bought from the store!

THE KING and THE WOMAN

There was once an old king who lived in a magical kingdom. He had the finest clothes, the tastiest meals and the most expensive furniture. However, the king was very unhappy.

One day, the king asked one of his servants to go out into the world and find him a friend. The servant did so and returned with an ugly, old woman.

At first the king was mad, but then the woman told jokes and he laughed. He realized that she could make him happy.

BOB and the FROGS

Bob was a boastful little frog who lived on a slippery little lily pad. He refused to let any of the other frogs share his lily pad because he thought he was the king of all creatures.

One afternoon, Bob's sister hatched a plan. She and three other frogs jumped into the pond water and swam underneath Bob's lily pad.

"One, two, three!"

Cheering, the frogs toppled Bob from his lily pad throne.
